Burial of the Dead.

Many of Them Laid Away Unidentified.

MORE BODIES RECOVERED

Slow Work in Removing the Acres of Debris.

GUNPOWDER BROUGHT INTO EFFECTIVE USE.

Another Day Only Increases the Harvest of Death in the Conemaugh Valley. Noble Responses of the Nation in Sending Car Loads of Provisions and Large Sums of Money for the Relief of the Destitute.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 7.—Yesterday all the bodies that remained unidentified were placed in coffins and removed to places of burial. Each coffin bore a card on which was a description of the body and clothing and any article of use or value found on the remains. As the bodies were carried and deposited in the yard an undertaker made a copy of the description, together with the morgue number, as well as the place of burial. The list will be posted at different places throughout the town for the information of inquiring friends. Very few of these, however, will ever be identified from these descriptive cards.

Recovering the Corpses.

The work of digging out the corpses yet in the ruins scattered all over the place is progressing somewhat slower. The fifteen bodies taken from the door of Alina hall were the last recovered. It is impossible to tell when the unfortunates will be dug out if ever, although a large force of men are at work at the hall.

Yesterday the first blast of gunpowder was fired at the bridge. It proved more effective than any of the charges of dynamite heretofore used, and hurled fragments debris 200 feet into the air. Mingled with it was a round fragment, which looked like the trunk of a human body. It fell back into the water with a great splash and glided with the swift current under the bridge before it could be pulled in with pike poles. Explosion after explosion of dynamite followed the blast of gunpowder, the detonations coming so close together that they might almost be taken for the continuous discharge of heavy guns. An opening 400 feet long, which runs back in some places fifty feet, was made during the afternoon.

Scarcity of Food.

Scarcity of food for the men owing partly to a lack of utensils to cook, caused a small sized riot at the labor camp yesterday morning. It was quelled, however, by a speech from Mr. Flinn, the contractor, who afterwards had the two ringleaders expelled from town. Tents for the laborers to sleep in are arriving from Washington, and fully 5,000 men are now at work

Plan of Sanitation.

Dr. Graff was given charge of the sanitary commission. Dr. Graff talked at length on the different plans of sanitation for the flooded district, and finally said: "There is but one sure, safe plan, burn everything. I think the order will be issued this evening to burn everything all over these districts. This is the surest plan to prevent any contagion or epidemic, but understand, there is no immediate danger of epidemic as long as the weather keeps as cool as it is now. There is not so much danger from decomposition and putrefaction unless the weather changes and becomes warm. There is no use in exciting the people in Pittsburg and other points down the river. We have received 10,000 pounds of best disinfectant known, but it is simply impossible to disinfect a body being under a pile of debris. I couldn't give you any idea of what it would cost to disinfect those districts, but I do know it would be the biggest kind of an undertaking."

Dr. Graff's plan of disposing of the debris above the bridge is to scatter oil over it and burn it.

Dr. J. Guy McCandles was here yesterday in consultation with the state board of health and others with reference to clearing the river from Mineral Point to Pittsburg. Wherever it is possible he thinks the bodies ought to be immediately cremated on the banks or in such places as they have fallen, thus relieving the river of its element of pollution. The gentlemen with whom he talked heartily coincided with his views and will co-operate with him in the work, which will be commenced at once.

Removing the Debris.

Five thousand men are now at work clearing away the debris on the island. Gangs came in from Hollidaysburg, Sand Patch and half a dozen other places and reported for duty They were put to work at once, most of them without any breakfast.

Still more men are needed, at least 2,000 more, and they will likely be here to-morrow. Mr. Flinn estimates that it will take 10,000 men sixty days to clear away the wreck. At this rate it will require $1,500,000 to pay for the work. This does not include the other expenses. Five million dollars will not be enough to put Johnstown in shape for rebuilding.

Early yesterday morning four hoisting engines were started at the east end stone bridge, and the work of clearing away the debris at that place was begun. Several hundred men are at work on it and the channel is gradually being cleared. The progress is very slow, however, and up to noon it was almost imperceptible. Better time will be made after the gorge of logs has been fairly started.

Rubber Gloves Needed.

Superintendent Bradinger, of the Grand View cemetery, says his men are in need of 200 pairs of rubber gloves. The bodies now brought there for interment are so badly decomposed that it is becoming exceedingly dangerous to handle them without rubber gloves, and coffin them with any regard to decency.

Trains Loaded With Supplies.

John B. Scott, who is in charge of the general headquarters, reports that telegrams are pouring in from all parts of the country, bearing the cheerful information that whole train loads of supplies are en route for the sufferers. While there was a shortage of food and all kinds of supplies yesterday morning, there will be plenty for all soon, as the railroad facilities are being bettered every hour.

But Few Children Found.

One feature of the disaster is noticeable at the morgues, particularly at the Fourth ward school-house. At any time may be seen lines of tearful mothers inquiring for young children and infants. Some say they do not want to see them if the remains are mangled and turn away slowly when told that there are no children inside. It appears a little strange that, although the number of lost children must have been very large, the number found has been proportionately small.

A Missionary's Body Found.

The baggage of Miss Annie Chism, of Nashville, Tenn., a passenger on the day express which was swept from the track at Conemaugh, has been found. She was a missionary on her way to Brazil, for the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Her watch, some money and a Greek testament were found. The effects of Miss Chism were sent to Altoona. It is evident that many lives were lost on this train. The whole affair is still a mystery.

No Inquest Necessary.

There will be no inquest held on the bodies of the thousands of residents of the Conemaugh valley who lost their lives in the world's unprecedented catastrophe. The law of the state does not require such an investigation, and the responsibility of the disaster which can be directly charged to the insecure wall that held the water of Conemaugh lake, will never be legally determined unless survivors should take independent action. All reports that arrangements for an inquest had been made are untrue.

Troops Only for Guard Duty.

In Cambria City shortly after midnight Wednesday night some drunken aliens caused trouble and one company of the Fourteenth regiment was sent to the scene but their services were not needed. Adjt. Gen. Hastings says troops are needed only for guard duty and denies the report that he ordered the Tenth regiment out.

Rescued Alive.

A mother and daughter were rescued alive yesterday afternoon suffering from the nervous shock and hunger. They were at once removed by rescuers and placed in charge of friends. Both will recover, as neither was badly injured in a bodily sense.

Notes.

Yesterday a hand-satchel containing $91 in cash; deeds for $26,000 in property and $10,000 in insurance policies was found. Mrs Lizzie Dignam was the owner and both she and her husband perished in the flood.

A live horse, with harness on, but so badly injured that it had to be shot, was taken from a pile of wrecked houses yesterday.

Notices are posted asking for carpenters, stonemasons and bricklayers, but they do not materialize.

A house-to-house canvass was commenced this morning to secure the names of the living, and find out where the missing are, it being apparent that a large number of survivors will not take the trouble to register at one of the stations.

Dr. Lee said late yesterday afternoon that one case, presumably typhoid fever had been reported from some distance out of town. The doctors say there is not a case in town.

Large quantities of sulphate of iron were placed in various parts of the ruined city yesterday as a disinfectant.

When the Gautier steel mill, of the Cambria Iron company closed down at 10 o'clock last Friday morning, nearly 1,400 men left the works. When the men yesterday answered the notice that all should present themselves ready for work, only 487 reported.

Fifty men were arrested yesterday for loafing about Booth & Flinn's tents and stealing the provisions from the workingmen.

Thirty-two bodies were recovered yesterday. Ninety-three bodies were buried in the Sandy Vale cemetery, eighty-two of them being "unknown."

The register of the New Hulbert house has been found. It is thought that Sidney McCloud and F. B. Delp, of Chicago, and W. F. Dow, of New York, are in the ruins.

APPEALING FOR HELP.

The General Relief Committee of Pittsburg Issues a Card.

PITTSBURG, June 7.—The general relief committee in this city gives out the following:

"Hon. W. Flinn, in charge of our laborers at Johnstown reports that it will require 10,000 men thirty days with all modern appliances to clear the wrecks along the ten miles of destruction, take out the corpses and the carcasses of dead animals and place the city in safe sanitary condition. This will cost double the amount now in the hands of the committee which does not include the relief for the suffering and destitute, which is very great, all of which has been carefully attended to.

"The destitute are brought to this city, fed, clothed and housed or sent free to friends all over the land. We ask that the generous subscriptions which are coming from all over the country be continued until sufficient funds are provided to complete the above work of which due notice will be given through the press

"WILLIAM MCCREERY.
"Chairman."

The amounts so far received by the general relief committee is between $250,000 and $300,000.

Loss of Life and Property.

The loss of life by the flood in the towns of Mineral Point. Franklinborough, East Conemaugh, Woodvale, Kerrsville, Cambria, Minersville, Morrellville, Sheridan and Coopersdale, which, with Johnstown, constitute the string of communities in the direct path of the flood, is about 2,000, and the loss of property, exclusive of Pennsylvania railroad property, about $6,000,000. Johnstown proper and Millville will possibly add 7,000 to the death list and about $18,000,000 to the financial loss. The Pennsylvania railroad's loss will be about $10,000,000 more, making the total loss as near as it can now be figured over 9,000 lives and more $34,000,000 of property.

The loss of life at Johnstown proper is but little more than a guess. It is too large a place for anybody to know everybody, and the survivors are so scattered that the registration of the living, which has reached 12,000 in the district, indicates nothing. The loss in the smaller towns is obtained from leading men in each, who have in a measure got their heads again, and are able to think with some coolness.

Repairing the Railroad.

Although not less than 5,000 workmen are busy repairing the Pennsylvania railroad, between Pittsburg and Altoona, the officials can form no estimate of how soon through connection will be established. There have been nine bridges washed away on the road, six of which are gone between Altoona and Harrisburg.

Elks' Reunion Postponed.

The National reunion of Elks was to have been held in Pittsburg, June 19, 20 and 21, has been postponed until July 16, 17 and 18 owing to the disaster at Johnstown.

Undertakers Go to Johnstown.

Thirty undertakers went to Johnstown this morning to assist those already there.

"If we have warm weather," said Mr Beinhauer, "the effect will be terrible, and I am afraid that even one warm day will cause many of our assistants to desert us. No man who has weak nerves or weak stomach could go to Johnstown now."

Fate of the Passengers.

PITTSBURG, June 7.—The official railroad reports of the dead and missing from the east bound trains that left Pittsburg last Friday now give the number at fifteen passengers and the colored porter of the Pullman car, New Orleans. There are no losses from the first two trains The corrected list of dead is:

Mrs. Talbot, nee Long, of Cleveland, with two or three children.

Cyrus Schick, of Reading, and his sister-in-law, Miss Stinson, who is a sister of Judge Stinton.

Mrs. Schick saved her life by going into the car to secure her water-proof.

John Ross, of Jersey City.

Mrs. J. B. Ranney, of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Miss Jennie Paulson and Miss Bryant, of Pittsburg.

Mr. Misall, manager of the Mansfield, O., base ball club.

Miss Agnes C. Christman, of Beauregard, Miss.

L. Phillips, colored, porter of the New Orleans Pullman car.

Mrs. Swiniford and daughter.

Mrs. Smith and child, of Dayton, O., where the bodies have been forwarded.

Miss Harnish, of Dayton, O.

Andrew Ewing, of Ligonier.

Mrs. Mary Swing, of Bellefonte.

Relief Through the Governor.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 7.—At 9 o'clock the governor had received from and been authorized to draw on parties in various portions of the country $203,000.

Insurance Companies Contribute.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 7.—The Ætna Fire Insurance company has contributed $1,000 for the Johnstown sufferers. The Phœnix Fire Insurance company has contributed $1,000.

The Fund of New York City.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The mayor's fund for Johnstown has reached $163,000 and the chamber of commerce funds $42,000. Other funds are also increasing rapidly.

Johnstown Relief in Paris.

PARIS, June 7.—The Johnstown fund now amounts to £2,000.

Appealing for German Sympathy.

BERLIN, June 7.—The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung in an editorial on the Johnstown floods, closes with a call upon German generosity in aid of the sufferers. America, it says, has never been slow or niggardly in responding to the voice of distress when it arose in Europe. Let us now show Americans that Germans too can be generous.

Recovered from the Drift.

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 7.—Large number of relics of the Johnstown disaster were picked up at this point in the floating drift. At Sciotville a pocket-book containing $5.26, a set of silver spoons marked "S. Y.," a bank book of the First National of Johnstown, with a credit to Nathan Dyer and two locks of hair, mementoes of lost loved ones, were found.

Governor Lee, of Virginia, has recently accepted the presidency of two companies, one at Lexington, Va., and the other at Staunton, Va.

Inquest Continued.

Another Days Testimony in the Cronin Case.

SOME CLAN-NA-GAEL SECRETS.

Dr. Cronin was Expelled from the Order. Some Damaging Evidence Against Alexander Sullivan—A Witness With a Bad Memory But Still Remembers Some Things Very Distinctly.

CHICAGO, June 7.—The Cronin inquest was resumed at 10:15 o'clock. Willard J. Smith, the young man who was for a time suspected to be Coughlin's friend from Michigan, was the first witness. Nothing new was developed by his testimony. One of the sensations of the day was the introduction of the books of the firm of J. T. Lester & Company, containing the account of the dealings of Alexander Sullivan with the concern.

L. Moore, a clerk in the employ of J. T. Lester & Company, was then called. He testified from a memorandum to certain transactions Alexander Sullivan had with the firm. They were chiefly in railroad stocks, and covered a period from June 1, 1882, to February 28, 1883. The total trades showed a loss to Sullivan of between $5,000 to $8,000. The total amount of margins was $125,000.

John W. Moore, the collector for the same firm testified as to the amount of collections.

Thomas O'Connor, an employe of the city law department, was the next witness. He was a member of Camp 86, Clan-na-Gael, the same one to which Coughlin and P. O. Sullivan belonged. He had known Dr. Cronin for four or five years. Dr. Cronin told him he was afraid of his life, on account of some exposures he had made of misappropriations of funds by certain members of the Clan-na-Gael. He did not mention any names. Witness advised him to go armed at night. Had known Coughlin for four or five years. He met P. O. Sullivan in front of his house the third night after Dr. Cronin's disappearance. He asked Sullivan how long he had known Cronin. Sullivan said, ever since John Finerty run for city treasurer.

Witness was present when Daniel Brown, of Camp 16, Clan-na-Gael, and a police officer on duty at Stanton avenue station, presented and read charges in Camp 86, which he had presented in Camp 16. They charged Dr. Cronin with reading in the camp of which he was the chief officer, a circular from a camp which had been expelled from the order by the executive body.

A committee composed of Lawrence R. Buckley, Frank Murray, Daniel Coughlin, John F. O'Malley, James J. Cunco and one other whose name he did not remember, were appointed to investigate the charges. They reported the result of their investigation to the executive body, which expelled Dr. Cronin.

On Friday after Dr. Cronins disappearance, witness met Dan Coughlin and Officer Whalen on a corner. They spoke of the disappearance. Coughlin said he believed Cronin was in London with LeCaron. Witness expressed belief that he was true to the Irish cause, and was not there. Coughlin replied: "I hope he is over there and is alive."

Witness then told of having been approached by a man unknown to him, who told him he might be selected for some work across the water. On Dr. Cronin's advice he determined to have nothing to do with it.

At the afternoon session John A. Beggs, the lawyer, who has figured in the case as a personal friend of Alexander Sullivan, and who went east on a mysterious mission for the latter, was the principal witness. Under a close cross-examination he admitted that he was the present senior guardian of Camp 20 of the Clan-na-Gael. There was no roster of the camp in existence. He could not swear that he did not meet Detective Coughlin on the day of Cronin's disappearance nor on the following day, pleading faulty memory. He remembered, however, that he was at the Grand Pacific on the night in question with a party of friends.

At a camp meeting in January he said there were several attacks by inuendo upon Alexander Sullivan, and in response he pitched into the speakers and handled them without gloves, telling them that if they wanted to abuse Sullivan they should mention his name and not attack him under cover in a cowardly manner. He repeated the story of going to New York May 14, and meeting a man named Powers, who told him that he had met Starkey, the fugitive jury briber. From thence he went to Spring Valley, N. Y.

Witness emphatically denied that he had sent a dispatch from that point signed with his initials and to the effect that he had met Dr. Cronin. From Spring Valley he went to Niagara Falls, where he met John H. Remayne, a member of the Clan-na-Gael executive committee. They had a general talk. He had seen Alexander Sullivan since his return, but not a word passed about the finding of the body. Replying to a final question, Beggs said that he had no theory regarding the murder.

A. J. Ford, another member of Camp 20, corroborated previous witnesses regarding Cronin having been expelled at the time from the order. Incidentally it came out that Thomas Murphy, father of the Miss Murphy who claimed to have seen Dr. Cronin in a street car on the night of the murder, was a member of the trial committee.

An Overflowed River.

MADRID, June 7.—The river Manzanares has overflowed its banks, inundating the whole valley. Many houses are submerged, and their occupants have been rescued with great difficulty.

A CITY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Seattle, Wyoming Territory, Visited by a Destructive Conflagration.

TACOMA, W. T., June 7.—The most solidly built part of Seattle was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, and last night. The flames are still burning. The fire started in the Denny block, on Front street, and, as a strong wind was blowing up the bay, it soon spread beyond the control of the fire department. The opera house and Coleman blocks soon followed the Denny, and the flames soon spread on to the end of the row, destroying the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, the largest dry goods stores, a bank, a jewelry store and the newspaper offices. It then jumped across the street to the Occidental hotel, the largest in the place, a four-story stone building, and soon reduced it to ashes. All the buildings destroyed were substantially built of brick and stone, most of them being three, four and five stories high.

The fire is still spreading and it seems likely to take the whole business part of the town. Engines have been telegraphed for to this city, Portland and Port Townsend. One engine was sent from here at 4 o'clock, and all the assistance possible was sent over by train and boat. All the buildings south and east of the Occidental for several squares are of wood, and some of them old and dry, and burn like tinder. They rest on piles and made ground, and as the wind sweeps under as well as above and around them, they cannot be saved if once ignited. To the west are the wharves and ware houses of the Railroad and Sound Transportation companies. It seems probable that the best part of the city will be destroyed. The loss is great and will probably reach $5,000,000.

THE MISSING MINER.

Renewed Efforts to Find Him Fail—His Wife at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 7.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Thomas Hislop, the Clay county miner, is still unsolved, and every effort to find the body has proved a failure. The river was dragged again yesterday, and in the evening a dozen dynamite cartridges were exploded in the deepest water, but but without result. Mrs. Hislop reached here yesterday morning, and is almost distracted with grief.

She brought a letter which she had received Wednesday from her husband, and in it he spoke of the trouble which he had experienced in his attempts to find employment, and threatened suicide, but she does not believe that such a thing was possible. She thinks that he was induced to write the letter while intoxicated, and was afterward murdered by the strange men who were seen with him late Tuesday evening. A dozen or more of Hislop's friends accompanied the stricken woman here, and each declares that Hislop would not have taken his own life. The letter to his wife is doubly strange in the light of the fact that he owns considerable property at Brazil, and was not here hunting work, but taking subscriptions for the striking miners.

Fiendish Murder to Blow Up a Church.

POMEROY, O., June 7.—Monday night, while services were being held in the Free Methodist church, near this city, an attempt was made to blow up the building. A lot of powder had been placed under the church, to which a fuse was attached and lighted, but it missed fire. Fully half a peck of blasting powder was taken from under the building after the attempt was discovered by the congregation. At least one hundred persons would have been killed had the powder been ignited.

Dies While Kneeling in Prayer.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Mrs. Andrew Harty, wife of a well known citizen of St. Louis, died suddenly last night, while kneeling at her bedside in prayer. She had been in perfect health and in good spirits half an hour before her death. The deceased was a devout Catholic, and one of her sons is Father Harty, rector of St. Leo's church. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Indians Signing the Treaty.

PIERRE, Dak., June 7.—An Indian runner arrived at Fort Pierre this afternoon, direct from Rosebud agency, on his way to Cheyenne, with word that the Indians of the agency had commenced to sign the treaty, and that the commission would get them all

Cotton Mills Burned.

LONDON, June 7.—The cotton mills in Offenburg, Baden, were destroyed by fire yesterday, involving a loss of 300,000 marks. Several workmen were killed.

SHORT TALK.

Small Events Which Took Place at Different Places.

Sitting Bull, the Sioux chief, is dying of pneumonia.

Spokane has arrived in Chicago, and is as sound as ever.

The Ohio universalist convention is in session at Akron.

Miss Maggie Adams was drowned at Vanceburg, Ky.

Governor Hill, of New York, vetoed the high license bill.

Subscriptions in Cincinnati for the relief of the Johnstown sufferers now amount to $29,106.

Mrs. Andrew Harty died suddenly, at St. Louis, while kneeling by her bedside in prayer.

The well known crook, Lon Barrett, has been arrested at Indianapolis for passing counterfeit money.

The nineteenth annual reunion of the Seventy-second Ohio Volunteer Infantry was held at Freemont yesterday.

The Sioux Indians have made Ex-Governor Foster a "chief," with the name, "Young Man Proud of His Tail."

Proceedings in injunction instituted to prevent the issuing of natural gas bonds at Toledo were argued yesterday before Judge Howell E. Jackson in the United States circuit court at Nashville.

Two Serious Affairs.

The Swiss Government Liable to Get Into Trouble

WITH GERMANY AND RUSSIA.

Both these Powerful Countries May Unite Their Forces and Crush the Poor Little Republic—An Exciting Scene in the French Chamber of Deputies—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, June 7.—News come from Berne that considerable friction has developed between the German and Swiss governments over the recent expulsion from Swiss territory of the German police official, Herr Wohlgemuth. The German authorities at Berlin are never at their ease if there is a single German Socialist in Europe without a policeman to shadow him. To look after the little colony of exiles in Switzerland the government officials at Berlin not long since sent Herr Wohlgemuth into the country, and this gentleman, growing restless because his intended victims would not promptly make a move which would entitle him to pounce upon them, bribed a Swiss Socialist to go among them to stir them up.

This man, however, instead of leading his German brethren into the trap so neatly set for them, disclosed the whole proceedings to his government, whereupon Herr Wohlgemuth was promptly imprisoned. German official influence secured his release, but he was given twenty-four hours to shake the dust of Switzerland from his feet. This was thought at the time would more than satisfy the German government, but in this the Swiss made a mistake. Bismarck now demands that the decree of expulsion be rescinded, claiming that the Swiss had failed to observe toward Germany the usual diplomatic courtesy. The whole proceeding excites considerable indignation among diplomatists here who are acquainted with the facts, and Germany is generally regarded as playing the part of a big bully toward her weaker neighbor.

This is not the only case of the kind Switzerland has on her hands. A Russian spy was recently expelled from her territory under precisely similar circumstances, and Russia now is also raising a hubbub about it. The picture of Germany and Russia uniting their forces to crush poor little Switzerland would be an instructive one to the enthusiastic admirer of monarchial chivalry.

An Exciting Scene.

PARIS, June 7.—An exciting scene occurred in the chamber of deputies yesterday when M. Ferry rose to speak on the education budget. The members of the right rose as one man and shouted and shrieked until they became hoarse. M. Ferry remained standing in his place coolly waiting for an opportunity to be heard, but his enemies kept up the cry, "The blood of the Tonquin dead choke you," while insults of the coarsest nature were hurled at him thick and fast. When the angry deputies had quieted down somewhat from sheer exhaustion, Paul DeCassagnac rose, and with a contemptuous nod in the direction of the ex-premier, said: "Let us submit to this infliction. Let us listen to this bourgeois, this Vendean deputy." Then facing the president, who was all the time shouting "Order," "Order," he said: "We swallow our disgust, Mr. President. Let him talk." Ferry then proceeded with his speech.

Of Course, They Know.

LONDON, June 7.—The St. James Gazette prints a leading editorial on the subject of the Behring sea controversy, which it heads, "Diplomatic Draw Poker." The article declares that the key to Mr. Blaine preposterous claims in Behring sea, is his belief that a first-class controversy with England is necessary to mark him as a diplomat of the foremost rank. Blaine knows that a bit of belief will sometimes prevent a call from any but the strongest hands. The article concludes that the United States government has set up a fictitious claim in Behring sea, solely with a view to offset the Canadians claim in the fisheries disputes.

A Marchioness Murdered.

BRUSSELS, June 8.—The Marchioness Dechasteler, belonging to one of the oldest of the noble families of Belgium, was found murdered in her bed at her residence, Chateau Moulbaix, at Mons. The crime has created great excitement.

The Marchioness De Chasteler was shot through the heart. The ball having been fired at her through a window, the report of the weapon projecting, it was not heard in the house. It is supposed that the murderer is a farmer who was angry with the marchioness for refusing to reduce his rent.

Go Away From Home For News.

LONDON, June 7.—The Times' Berlin correspondent telegraphs that it seems to be taken for granted in diplomatic circles in Berlin that Murat Halstead will soon receive the appointment of United States minister to Germany.

A Destructive Fire in Prussia.

LONDON, June 7.—A fire in the village of Lebionsch, near Ratibari in Prussian Silesia yesterday, destroyed 105 houses, including the village church and vicarage. Seven hundred of the villagers are rendered homeless.

Probably a London Detective.

BERLIN, June 7.—A New York detective, who came from the Paris exhibition and is now visiting in Berlin, had his pocket picked here yesterday. He lost his money and some valuable papers.

Property Damaged by a Storm.

LONDON, June 7. — A tremendous thunder storm pass over London yesterday. The lightning was intensely vivid. Much property has been damaged and several cases of loss of life are reported.

Crops Ruined By a Flood.

LONDON, June 7.—Disastrous floods are reported from different parts in Bavaria, with considerable destruction of property. The crops are ruined in many sections.

A Large Pension Just in Time.

PITTSBURG, June 7.—Pension Agent Barclay yesterday paid out the largest single pension granted during his connection with the Pittsburg office. It amounted to $5,966.61 and was paid to Sarah J. Mackin, a widow, living at Johnstown. It is remarkably timely as a relief measure, Mrs. Mackin having been completely robbed of her earthly possessions by the flood.

A Canadian Embezzler.

LOUISVILLE, Que., June 7.—L. H. Mirreau, banker and insurance agent, has disappeared, and is supposed to be in New York. Forgeries for large amounts are coming to light. Mirreau is 60 years old. He is Reeve of Maskinonge county, and an ex-mayor of the parish.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Quotations for the Money, Stock, Produce and Cattle Market for June 6.

NEW YORK.—Money 2 to 3 per cent. Exchange steady; governments quiet.

Currency sixes, 118½ bid; four coupons, 129 bid; four-and-a-halfs, 106½ bid.

The stock market opened decidedly active, and, including unlisted securities, over 150,000 shares were sold in the first hour. The trust stocks again led in both strength and activity. In the regular list New England led with an advance of 1 per cent., and was followed by Missouri Pacific and Lackawanna. The granger and trunk line stocks were firm, and recorded slight gains. At this writing the market is strong at the best figures

Plenty of Coal.

In reply to the assertion that the world in the future may be dependent upon America for its supply of coal, a foreign exchange cites the numerous undrained coal fields of the Netherlands, Switzerland, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Bohemia, Servia and Hanover, which are estimated at 59,000 square miles, and Russia with 22,000 square miles. The island of Formosa can show 10,000 square miles. Near Peking coal veins of ninety-five feet thickness are to be found. Large coal fields are also found in Austria, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece, Turkey and Persia, with 39,000 square miles, to which India's 35,000 and China, with about 400,000 square miles, are still to be added. Japan can furnish 6,000 square miles. There still remain the Falkland Islands, Patagonia and Peru, which contain rich coal deposits. The largest portion of southern Chili is an immense coal bed. Brazil contains coal beds of seventeen to twenty-five feet thickness. In the United States of Colombia a soft chalky coal of good quality is found. Mexico, Vancouver's Island and New South Wales all have coal; the latter country has 25,000 square miles. In addition thereto, Queensland, Victoria and West Australia add upward of 14,000 square miles of coal. New Zealand furnishes 70,000, besides Tasmania, New Caledonia, Natal, Alaska and other partially developed portions of the world, which should represent at least 100,000 square miles, in addition to former figures. The coal fields are in the main but partially explored, and known only to the geologists. The coal fields of North America (excepting Alaska and Mexico) are as little considered in the foregoing statement as are those of Africa.—Oil City Derrick.

A Human Fly.

One of the prominent figures in Westerly, R. I., is "Steeple Jack," by which name William Wallace, the chimney repairer, is known. "Steeple Jack's" method of working on a chimney is novel and interesting and he always has large audiences. He is never out of work. He sets up his own peculiar device for a staging, which is a feature of his profession and which enables him to complete a job in about the time that it takes to erect an ordinary staging. "Steeple Jack" first places a long, light ladder against the chimney that is to be operated on. Then, mounting it, he drives a peculiarly shaped iron pin into the brick work and binds the top of the ladder fast to this pin. Standing on the top round of this ladder, he drives another pin into the chimney as high above his head as he can reach. A rope is then passed over this pin and made fast to a round in a second ladder about three feet from its bottom round. This ladder is then hoisted up until it rests on the top of the first ladder. It is then made fast to the lower pin, and then "Steeple Jack" mounts to the top of it and, driving in another pin, secures the top round to that. From this ladder a third is hoisted, as before, and Jack and the ladders, as many of them as be necessary, continue to rise as far as may be desired. It is estimated that he has clambered about fifteen miles up into the air in this way.—Philadelphia Times.

THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD.

Machinery in the United States does the work of 500,000,000 men.

A factory for making attar of rose and other flower essence is just being established at Atlanta, Ga.

Careful estimates show that 66 per cent. of anthracite coal is lost in the process of mining and marketing.

The millions of various and sundry English syndicates are going rapidly into the purchase of southern land.

Georgia threatens a waiting world with 2,000 more carloads of watermelons than she sent out to it last year.

A company with a capital of $500,000 is about to test in Chicago the new Swedish process of electric tanning.

The Prosser locomotive, just invented at Chicago, is said to be noiseless, smokeless and wonderfully economical of fuel and of power.

John Bull and his island used to buy much ice from Boston, but now get a supply from Norway at about 50 cents to 60 cents per hundred pounds.

A typewriter, just patented, is wholly of metal, yet weighs but sixteen pounds, does away with the inked ribbon and has but nine springs in its construction.

William Gibbs, of London, has devised and constructed an apparatus by which perfectly pure air of the temperature 500 degs. Fahrenheit results from the combustion of coal.

Leghorn hats are made not at Leghorn, but at Prato, some eleven miles from there. About 150,000 persons are employed either in raising the straw or in preparing or plaiting it.

The invention of a "fog machine," by which water is thrown in spray as fine as vapor, makes it possible to spin the finest cotton thread in mills established in the hottest, dryest parts of the south.

A German, Professor Braun, of Tubingen, declares that he has devised machinery by which motion may be converted directly into electricity. His compatriot, Dr. Eisenman, of Berlin, has devised an electric piano.

The trouble with most smokeless powders thus far invented is due to their delinquescent properties, which render them useless for a time unless they are hermetically sealed from the time of manufacture until the moment of use.

Mock pearls are now made from clear glass beads coated inside with "essence d'orient," which is simply a solution of the pearly scales of small fish, 40,000 of whom must give up their scales to make two pounds of the solution.

The large grain powders now used in the English navy are found to be very much affected by the close heat of the magazines on board the iron clads. When kept for some time they partially liquefy and become much more explosive.

Petrargit, the new German explosive derived from molasses, is said to be three times as powerful as nitro-glycerine. Another German device for helping folk out of the world is the carbolic and shell, which is a glittering and deadly success.

A French chemist has spun nitrated cellulose into artificial silk more wonderful and more beautiful than the well known spun glass. It is colored at pleasure while in solution and after drying is unaffected by acids, alkalies, hot or cold water, alcohol or ether.

A "cotton chopper" or horse hoe has just been invented by a South Carolinian, and works so well that it is expected to quite supersede the old time hand hoe. The inventor claims that by using his implement the cotton planters may save themselves just $7,000,000 a year.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

THE LATEST IN JEWELS.

A sunflower, with petals of pearls, makes a delicate brooch.

Red onyx cherries are attracting much attention as cuff links.

An enamel kitten with eyes of diamonds is a unique lace pin.

The figure of a lady riding a horse at full gallop surmounts an artistic silver blotter.

A simple knot formed by a gold rope, with pearl tipped ends, makes a pleasing scarf pin.

A diamond in the center of a black enamel pansy produces a very brilliant effect as a lace pin.

An expensive but uncommon necklace is formed of black pearls strung on an invisible gold wire.

Incrusted gold balls bearing semicircles of turquois make earrings of a very pleasing appearance.

A diamond resting in a star on a flat nugget gold cuff button is a dainty conception recently seen.

Two diamonds and a ruby in the center of an oval of gold balls is a decidedly new and attractive hair pin.

A miniature on ivory, covered by glass and circled with projecting pearls, is a scarf pin recently revived.

Among the most recent productions in deposit work is a coffee set of china with engraved silver exterior.

A magnificent cat's eye in the center of a square of diamonds was the mounting of a bracelet recently brought out.—Jeweler's Weekly.

DAUGHTERS OF EVE.

Mrs. Fenwick Miller is the only English woman journalist who signs her articles with her own name.

Hon. Mrs. Maxwell Scott, of Abbotsford, is preparing for the press some hitherto unpublished journals of her great-grandfather, Sir Walter Scott.

Mary Anderson has been having a very lively time in a social way in London of late. Mary is the most popular of contemporary English actresses.

Christine Nilsson's finances may be judged from her competition at an auction with the agent of the Louvre. To his bid of 37,000 francs for a Madonna of Mabuse she offered 40,000 francs and got it.

Sarah Bernhardt has a new fad. She now has a habit of arising at 4 o'clock in the morning, dressing herself as a man and prowling about the remote streets and byways of Paris until 7 or 8. Then she returns to her home, undresses and goes to bed.

Queen Victoria's new maid of honor, Miss Loftus, a niece of Lady Ely, is a very pretty, bright girl. She went down to Windsor before her appointment to be inspected by the royal family, and, being approved of, was gazetted. Poor girl, what a life she will lead. Her majesty is more of a sputterer now than she used to be, dontcherknow.

The Rev. Mrs. Ellen Rinkle, a regularly ordained minister of the United Brethren church at Wooster, O., is probably the first woman ever authorized to perform marriage ceremonies. She made an application a short time ago for a license to perform marriages. The judge before whom the case came up being unable to find any law prohibiting the issuing of a license, proceeded to grant one. Mrs. Rinkle will tie her first nuptial knot within a few days.

A STORY ABOUT STANLEY.

How Actor Florence Found Him Unexpectedly in Paris.

At the St. James hotel last evening there was a large group of guests discussing foreign news, and the conversation turned to the latest exploits of Henry M. Stanley.

"Did you ever hear how I found Stanley?" asked William J. Florence, the great comedian. Every one answered in the negative, and asked for a recital of the story. "Just after Stanley had crossed the Dark Continent," said Florence, "I was passing my vacation in Europe. While in Paris I received a cablegram one day from the New York Herald, which read about as follows:

"'Stanley has arrived at Marseilles, where we have cabled him. Give him a magnificent dinner in Paris the day after to-morrow. Spare no expense. You may draw against us for any amount. Please favor us.'

"I went ahead and worked like a beaver. I engaged the Hotel Chatham, one of the best in Europe, for big receptions, and ordered a dinner for 250 guests. I skirmished around, and, thanks to the intense popularity which the great African explorer had won, I had no trouble in getting together one of the most brilliant and distinguished crowds that Paris could produce. I was very nervous, of course, about the matter, and spent the whole day preceding the night of the reception in supervising the floral and other decorations and arranging the distribution of the guests. In the afternoon, while hard at work fulminating in the choicest Americanese against an imbecile florist, I heard some one sing out: 'Hello, Bill, what are you up to?'

"The voice had a half familiar ring.

"I turned and saw a gray mustached individual with rather shabby clothes and the unmistakable expression of a New York newspaper man.

"'Hard at work getting up a dinner.'

"'What is it all about—some political affair?'

"'Oh, no; it's a complimentary banquet to Stanley.'

"'Well, I fancy he'll be delighted. He ought to be, any way.'

"All the time I was puzzling myself as to whom my visitor was. I could not place him in my memory, and, therefore, resorted to the old expedient of asking questions.

"'What are you doing here?' I began.

"'Staying a day or two and then going back to the States via London.'

"'Anything important or newsy?'

"'Absolutely nothing. Just going back to rest a little. You know, Bill, a fellow can't work forever without some relaxation.'

"I was as far off as ever, and so tried a new tack.

"'It's a long time, old boy, since we met.'

"'Yes; quite a number of years.'

"'What was the last place?' I queried, growing desperate.

"'I don't remember, Bill, the exact place or time. It may have been New York, Chicago, Boston or Cincinnati. I've seen you so often that I can't tell.'

"I paused, not knowing what to say next.

"He promptly took up the conversation by remarking:

"'Say, Bill, I think I'd like to take in this dinner. Could you accommodate an old friend?'

"This was coming it strong. He looked all right, and I was certain I knew of him under pleasant auspices, but he might be some black sheep that had strayed from the fold. So I answered:

"'I'll try to arrange it, although all the invitations are out and every seat filled. Let me have your card and I'll see if I can't get a plate somewhere around the board.'

"He smiled as he answered: 'Bill, I haven't got a card to my name; but never mind that—I'll come anyhow.'

"This was too much for even me. I looked at him apologetically and said: 'My dear boy, I must make a confession. I have a fearfully bad memory for names and addresses, and although we're old friends I cannot recall who you are to save my soul from perdition. Now, who are you, anyhow?'

"He grinned all over, leaned forward, catching hold of my shoulders, and said: 'Bill, I knew you didn't knew me all the time. I'm Stanley himself.'

"It took a minute to recover from the surprise and subsequent laughter, and then we made a bee line for the nearest bottle."—William E. S. Fales in New York Mail and Express.

On a Long Journey.

Tramp—Please, mum, I can't git work at me trade now anywhere around here, and wud you be so kind as ter help me along on me journey to a place where I can find work?

Lady—Poor man! I didn't know business was so dull. Where do you expect to find work?

"Considerin' the time o' year, mum, I'm afraid I'll have to go a long ways north of here."

"Indeed! What is your trade?"

"I'm a snow shoveler, mum."—New York Weekly.

Exposed to the Atmosphere.

Customer (in St. Louis store)—Have you any white neckties?

Clerk—Very sorry, sir, but all our white ties were taken out of the show case last night by mistake and they are a little off color.—Clothier and Furnisher.

The Value of Watch Dogs.

Tramp—Say, madam, I found your ~~Bulldog~~ Bulldog down by the gate. Is there any reward?—Scribner's Magazine.

Caution to Mothers.

Every mother is cautioned against giving her child laudanum or paregoric; it creates an unnatural craving for stimulants which kills the mind of the child. Acker's Baby Soother is specially prepared to benefit children and cure their pains. It is harmless and contains no Opium or Morphine. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Somebody tore up everything in Warren's park, piled up seats, smashed signs and spoiled flower beds. Park is in center of town but police were profoundly ignorant of anything going on.

R. B. Hyman, a traveling man, of Grand Rapids, says: After months of suffering with a very stubborn case of Eczema, or fever sore on my leg, and consulting and taking treatment from a score or more physicians all over the country, Dr. Lemoreux, of Lake View, Mich., told me of Loose's Extract Red Clover. I only used two pounds solid extract and taking four bottles of fluid extract internally, am entirely well. It was the only thing that the sore yielded to and I had tried every and anything that had been recommended to me. Dr. Lemoreux considers it one of the very best remedies as a blood purifier in existence.

Sold in Marion, O., by W. B. Foye, Druggist.

Wm. Moke, Alva Callihan, Grant Richards and Mont Timms, Guernsey county youths all under 20, were sent to penitentiary for three years for raping a girl named Crossley near Byesville.

A Duty to Yourself.

It is surprising that people will use a common ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick-headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not gripe. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Southern Ohio congressmen are in Washington working hard for favorites in hopes of getting them appointments. Lieutenant Governor Lyon says he's simply there on private business.

What a Physician Says.

J. M. Loose Red Clover Co., Detroit.

I cheerfully furnish the following for publication:

Mrs. S., age 36, cancerous face (cell cancer), had tried many physicians and on presentation to me was a horrible sight to look upon. Nose partly eaten away, deep pits in cheeks, forehead and chin. As a last hope I put her on Loose's Extract Clover Red—large doses internally, and as a local application, I used the Solid Extract as plaster form. She improved rapidly from the first week and in four months was entirely well. Now eighteen months since treatment, and no signs of return.

JOHN J. WEAVER.

Ulceration of the leg (Indolent Ulcer). Recovered entirely after three months' treatment with Red Clover Tonic and Solid Extract Dressing. Now one year since treatment, and no sign of return.

WALTER W. HUME.

Cancer of Lip and Skin Disease. Entirely cured with three months' treatment with Red Clover Tonic and Solid Extract Dressing. Now over year and no sign of return.

B—— B——.

Secondary syphilis was entirely cured by Red Clover Tonic in three months, with none of the after results such as are left by mercury in such cases.

If you have any doubting physicians, they can write to me and I will give them a full history of each case.

DR. W. H. YARNALL.

Sold in Marion, O., by W. B. Foye, Druggist.

One of our pious exchanges calls attention to the fact that the season of the church oyster supper is ended and professionals will not be called in to save for a bivalve for four months. But one evil always follows in another's wake. The strawberry season is at hand and the strawberry festival will reign supreme for a month.

Pimples on the Face

Denote an impure state of the blood and are looked upon by many with suspicion. Acker's Blood Elixir will remove all impurities and leave the complexion smooth and clear. There is nothing that will so thoroughly build up the constitution, purify and strengthen the whole system. Sold and guaranteed by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

A fashion writer says it seems that the men are not to have the flannel shirt all to themselves this summer. Women, says a fashion writer, will wear them, too, with a soft sash at the waist line and a jaunty, short cutaway coat over all.

—Dr. B. Mincer, the eminent optician of Detroit, Mich., who is now a resident of Marion, will visit every town in this county. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abused by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the postoffice will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examination or visiting patients at their home. On Saturdays and Sundays he can be found in his office at residence, No. 25, Silver street. 164-1y.

According to the Boston Courier, the worst of these childs' banks, said a fond father the other day, is that it takes so long to get the money out of them when you are in a hurry to catch a train.

Is Life Worth Living?

Not if you go through the world a dyspeptic. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets are a positive cure for the worst forms of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. Guaranteed and sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

The New York Evening Sun tells of a Chester, Pa., doctor who advised a mother to give her child sage tea for its ailment and who has just been suspended by the county medical society for unprofessional conduct. The doctor should have made out a regular prescription and charged for it.

Are You Skeptical?

If so we will convince you that Acker's English Remedy for the lungs is superior to all other preparations, and is a positive cure for all Throat and Lung troubles, Croup, Whooping Cough and Colds. We guarantee the preparation. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Ohio.

LEGISLATIVE SINGLE DISTRICTS.

AMENDMENT NO. 2.

SECTION 1. Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1889, to amend Sections 1 to 11, inclusive, of Article XI, of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, so they shall read as follows:

ARTICLE XI.

SEC. 1. The apportionment for members of the General Assembly shall be made every ten years, prior to the first election for members of the General Assembly in each decennial period, in the manner herein provided.

SEC. 2. During the month of February prior to the first election for members of the General Assembly in each decennial period, the members of the Senate and House of Representatives representing the two leading political parties respectively, shall meet in separate bodies, and each of said bodies shall designate two electors, who shall forthwith be appointed by the Governor, and such four electors so designated and appointed shall constitute a commission, who shall ascertain and determine the ratio of representation for members of the House of Representatives and senators, the number of representatives to which each county is entitled, and the boundaries of each senatorial district. Should any vacancy occur in such commission the senators of the party making the original designation shall, within ten days thereafter, designate an elector to fill such vacancy, and he shall forthwith be appointed by the Governor.

SEC. 3. The population of the state, as ascertained by the preceding Federal census, or in such other manner as the General Assembly shall direct, shall be divided by the number "one hundred and ten," and the quotient shall be the ratio of representation in the House of Representatives for the ten years succeeding such apportionment.

SEC. 4. Each county shall be entitled to at least one representative; each county containing one such ratio, and one-half over, shall be entitled to two representatives; each county containing two and one-half times such ratio shall be entitled to three representatives, and so on.

SEC. 5. Each county entitled to more than one representative shall be divided by such commission into as many districts as there are representatives apportioned to such county, and one representative shall be chosen from each district.

SEC. 6. Each representative district, in counties entitled to more than one representative, shall be composed of compact territory, bounded by ward or township lines, and as nearly equal in population as practicable; and each of such districts shall be numbered.

SEC. 7. The state shall be divided into not less than thirty-five nor more than forty senatorial districts, as herein provided, and each district shall choose one senator.

SEC. 8. The ratio for a senator shall be ascertained by dividing the population of the state by the number "thirty-five."

SEC. 9. Each senatorial district shall be composed of compact territory, as nearly equal in population as practicable, and except as to districts in counties entitled to two or more senators shall be bounded by county lines.

SEC. 10. Each county having a population equal to three-fourths of one senatorial ratio shall constitute a senatorial district. Each county having a population equal to one senatorial ratio, and one-half over, shall be divided into two senatorial districts. Each county having a population equal to two and one-half ratios shall be divided into three senatorial districts, and so on; but no ward or township shall be divided in the formation of a senatorial district.

SEC. 11. The apportionment so made for members of the General Assembly shall be reported to the Governor, by such commission, within three months after their appointment, and the same shall be published in such manner as shall be provided by law.

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words "Legislative Single Districts—Yes," and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words "Legislative Single Districts—No."

ELBERT L. LAMPSON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
THEO. F. DAVIS,
President pro tem. of the Senate.

Adopted April 9th, 1889.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, OHIO,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

I, Daniel J. Ryan, Secretary of State of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a joint resolution adopted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, on the 9th day of April, A. D. 1889, taken from the original rolls filed in this office.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and affixed my official seal, at Columbus, the 19th day of April, A. D. 1889.

[SEAL.]

DANIEL J. RYAN,
Secretary of State.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that a petition pending before the Hon. the Mayor and Council of the Village of Marion, in Marion County, Ohio, praying for the vacation of a certain alley between Lots Nos. 512 and 513, of a certain alley between Lots Nos. 516 and 517, and of a certain part of the alley east of the B. and I. ## LONG LIFE

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver, and disease-preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names and guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangle-up system in a very short while, and those who have it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health. Free from alcohol and opium; composed of expensive herbs and roots, with a fine, delicate flavoring.

WHAT SHALL WE WEAR?

STYLES THAT ARE APPROVED IN NEW YORK, PARIS AND LONDON.

Riding Habits Worn by Fair Equestriennes. Outfits Designed for the Summer Season and Country Wear—Silk Underwear and Negligee Garments.

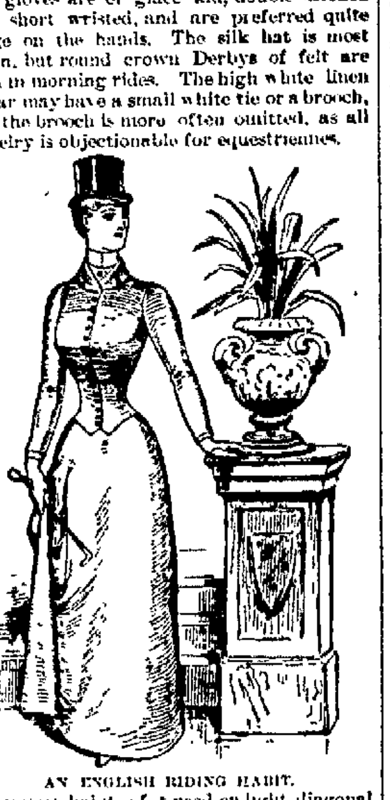
During the summer season and for country wear, fine diagonal cloths in light gray shades and in dust colors, will be much used for riding habits. The outfit, as made for New York's fair equestriennes, according to Harper's Bazar, consists, as does the English habit, of three pieces—bodice, skirt and trousers. These are all made from one piece of cloth, and instead of any fanciful trimmings in the way of braiding, the edges are simply stitched or else finished with cord in tailor fashion. The underwear is a very short corset with cover, and a long merino or silk garment combining vest and drawers. The long top boots are tipped with patent leather, and the gloves are of glace kid, double stitched and short wristed, and are preferred quite large on the hands. The silk hat is most worn, but round crown Derbys of felt are seen in morning rides. The high white linen collar may have a small white tie or a brooch, but the brooch is more often omitted, as all jewelry is objectionable for equestriennes.



AN ENGLISH RIDING HABIT.

Summer habits of tweed or light diagonal are sometimes made with a "step collar" notched like that of a man's coat, or else cut open slightly square like a clergyman's collar. Still others have a white pique or cloth vest set in, with the habit buttoned over it in the middle, and the vest showing only at top and bottom. With the step collar a white scarf such as men use is worn and a scarf pin is stuck in it. Bone buttons with holes in the center are on habits of all kinds, those of Melton for the park as well as those for the country. Hunting habits to be worn in rough country roads are of the strongest English Melton, and have a gay vest of red cloth provided, as well as a white one to make them useful on other occasions.

Very young girls just in their teens have habits of blue or dust colored tweed or diagonal cloth made up with the narrow short skirt precisely like those worn by ladies, but the bodice for their slight, undeveloped figures is often laid in lengthwise plaits, and sometimes a belt defines the waist. Caps with visors, in favor with these young riders, are made of cloth like the habit or of corduroy, or else they wear Derby felt hats. Their long hair is worn in a single hanging braid tied with ribbons a few inches above the end, or else it is plaited in two slender braids and coiled round and round close against the head in the English coil such as ladies wear when riding. In the cut is shown an English habit which, as will be seen, is almost if not quite identical with the New York outfits.

Silk Lingerie.

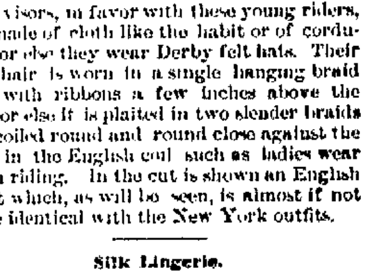
The cream and pale pink and blue silk underwear for ladies, and the numerous little garments for children, are well worthy of inspection.



SILK NIGHTGOWNS

The new petticoats are made of shot silk with pinked out flounces covered with black lace, sometimes bordered by lace run through with colored ribbons. In the annexed cut are shown two silk nightgowns. One is of flowered silk, with platings of spotted and buttonholed muslin. The ribbon bow at the throat is of the same hue with the silk. The removing gown is of cream silk. The yoke is made with diagonal lines of lace insertion. The frills are of lace. Other trimmings are bright colored ribbon bows.

Millinery for Children.

The millinery for children is exceedingly dainty. A new trimming round a fine straw or a silk hat is what is called dropping roses, a band formed of rose leaves, the roses themselves elongating into long bands of falling petals. Hats are much crumpled at the back and no two would seem to be alike; the hats are high, though some of the straws have only satin crowns piled up with ribbon and other trimming. For young children caps made of loops of narrow ribbon are placed beneath the hat brims, but even for older ones a band of ribbon is often introduced beneath, coming next the face. Pretty bonnets in soft silk are becoming in the extreme to little faces, and fullings at the edge of the brim are novelties, the drawn brims showing quite a flounce of the material, while in others a wide frill of lace is added, or work.

Fashionable Headdresses.

The newest headdresses consist chiefly of parti-colored bows, a little scrap of embroidered lisse and an osprey, all tastefully arranged together. One in salmon color and green was particularly successful. Also a dead gold lace model, twisted into fantastic shapes over terra cotta silk, and a charming little Alsatian bow of vieux rose, arranged on a foundation of velvet in a deeper shade. The various embroidered lisse handkerchiefs to be seen here are extremely pretty for various ornamental purposes. These make charming headdresses, and, gracefully arranged down the side of a bodice, are effective.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

Some Facts About the Many Sudden Deaths Attributed to Heart Failure.

Professor Darling, of New York, in a paper on heart disease, which has for one object the correction of the popular misapprehension that there is but one form of this disease and that invariably fatal, states that the trouble is either more common or else the physicians of the past failed to recognize it when it did exist.

After long experience and special study Dr. Darling concludes that cardiac disease is not necessarily fatal; that many grave forms are entirely recovered from; that enlargement of the heart is not in itself a disease; that with serious valvular disease developed in childhood, patients have been known to live to be aged men and women, and that, with a large majority of those supposed to be suffering from disease of the heart, that organ is in reality perfectly sound and, if affected at all, is suffering secondarily to functional disturbances of organs remote from the heart, and which are capable of proper hygienic measures.

Dr. Darling divides heart troubles into two classes. The first of these, valvular disease, is common to all periods of life. A person suffering from valvular disease is crippled, but, according to Dr. Darling, if the nutrition of the heart be good, by avoiding indiscretions and adopting an occupation that does not require great physical strain, by living on a level, as it were, life may be prolonged in comfort for many years.

Heart diseases of the second form are, save in exceptional cases, the direct result of hereditary influences or of indiscretions in life, and by proper knowledge and precautions can, in the majority of cases, be avoided; or, if already established, be checked in their progress.

The predisposing causes of this form of disease are long continued mental work, and such indiscretions as the habitual use of wine or excess in the eating of food highly charged with nitrogen (such as beef, mutton and venison), which bring about conditions of the digestive organs, especially of the liver, that result in arterial changes which cause the heart to fail long before it should.

The author asserts that the forms of heart disease which kill so suddenly, and which do not result from endocarditis, or the presence of a specific poison in the blood, arise in nearly every instance directly from a pathological condition due to certain derangements of the liver.

Conceding liver disturbance to be the primary cause of premature wearing out of the heart, two questions arise: What mode of life will prevent these diseases? and, when they exist, how shall life be so regulated as to avoid sudden death? The answer to the first question is: A discreet life, temperance in all things, particularly the avoidance of the habitual use, even in moderation, of stimulating drinks, and the ingestion of too much meat. In answer to the second are quoted Dr. George Harley's rules: (1) Take exercise without fatigue, (2) nutrition without stimulation and (3) amusement without excitement.

The Summer Vacation.

The great thing when you go for a change is—to get it. If you are tired bodily and mentally, what on earth is the use of a wild stampede through miles of picture galleries and scores of cities? You are not in a fit state to assimilate all the information you are passing through, you only become twice as jaded. Then if only families would not think it necessary to take their change in droves!

"Father" and his eldest son, to do them justice, fully realize the fallacy of this idea, and do their best to keep both the time and locale of their holiday, as far as may be, independent of the grand family move; but mamma and the girls and children seem indissolubly bound together; and yet if mother would only now and again take a thorough change, what a good thing it would be, not only for herself, but for her family. She would return to her work with renewed energy, and a fund of new ideas; while the others, left to themselves, would learn to appreciate the sympathy and management they had learned, from its invariable presence, to take as a matter of course.

SOCIAL ETIQUETTE.

A New Field of Usefulness for the Best Man at Coming June Weddings.

Though brides have all seasons for their own (always excepting May, the unlucky month, and Friday, the unlucky day), June, "the month of roses," might almost be called also "the month of weddings," so popular is it as a time for entering the matrimonial state. Nature, in fresh verdure and odorous blooms, smiles upon the ceremony and may be expected to furnish pleasant days for the wedding journey. It is therefore timely to mention that, while of late it has been the custom in some circles to keep secret, even from the most intimate friends, the destination of a bride and groom starting on their honeymoon, a still newer feature has been instituted recently by putting all such details in the hands of the best man. This is an English fashion, and the idea is that the young couple should not be asked to concern themselves with such mundane details as tickets and trunk checks, and that the best man should relieve them of all care on the subject by telegraphing ahead for lodgings, securing seats in the train, looking after the luggage, and even deciding where they are to go.

Of course a discreet best man will by judicious and artful investigation discover from the young people their joint predilections in the matter of places, and will not make the mistake of sending them upon a sea voyage if the lady is not a good sailor, or of booking them for the Yosemite valley when the young wife has left the completion of her trousseau for Paris shopping. It is taken for granted that the best man will familiarize himself with the tastes of his principals and the general outline of their plans before he makes his decision, but in some cases he has planned quite independently of these, and the result has been a great success through the very novelty and unexpectedness of the trip. When the carriage comes after the reception and the pair have taken their seats, the best man hands the groom his tickets and checks and a time table with the place of his destination marked upon it, with the address of the hotel where rooms have been secured. This is the first knowledge the two have of the course and direction of their journey.

In any case the best man looks after the luggage and relieves the bridegroom of all annoyance and care taking, and no one asks the young couple whither they are flitting, such a question being considered in bad taste.

Offences Against Good Taste.

While one may, and indeed should, be handsomely dressed at a fashionable summer resort, one must be careful to avoid undue ostentation. Some ladies of wealth, anxious to obtain a social footing, have failed because of their offenses against good taste in wearing toilets that were too striking, as well as in other matters. It goes without saying, that a person already within the charmed circle is allowed more latitude than would be granted to an outsider. What is only eccentricity in our friends often appears to us almost a crime in a stranger.

A Brief History of the Great Sphinx Which Lies in Front of the Second Pyramid of Egypt—Admiral Porter's Favorite Dog.

The great Egyptian Sphinx, looking to the east across the sand that has buried it to the chin for thousands of years, is one of the oldest monuments in the world. We know, from an inscription on it, that 1,500 years before the Christian era, the sands of the desert had buried it as deeply as it is in our own day.

THE GREAT SPHINX.

In 1817 the sand was cleared away in front down to the paws, and the tablet of the monarch Thothmes, which is set into its heart, was uncovered. But the sand drifted over it again, and it was once more uncovered in 1869, at the opening of the Suez canal. But now M. Maspero, of the Boulak museum, has undertaken to clear away the sand all around it and expose the gigantic figure to view as it was in the time of Pliny, when travelers came from all parts to see it and left their names in Greek and Latin scratched upon its paws. This great Sphinx is sculptured out of natural rock and measures 172 feet long by 53 feet high.

Origin of Some Slang Words.

Golden Days says "pow-wow" comes from the Indians.

The word "boss" comes from the low Dutch, and means master.

"Kidnap" comes from the napping or stealing of a kid, gypsy or child.

"Calaboose," a prison; "picaroon," a pirate; "palaver," to talk—are all Spanish.

"A rum chap" is simply a gypsy lad; it has no relation to the product of the still.

"Dude," meaning a dandy, has no appreciable derivation. Like Topsy, it growed.

"Pal" is a brother, and "conk," for nose, comes from the spouting fountain, the concha of the Romans.

"Demijohn" comes from the Arabic damaghan, itself taken from the Persian glass making town of Damaghan.

The common slang word "mash" is from a beautiful gypsy word, mafada, which means "to charm by the eyes."

The good dictionary word "vamp" was at first a slang word, being rubbing up of old hats and shoes. Now, from being a cobbler's word, it has become a classic, and we talk of revamping the language.

A tinker's dam has nothing to do with swearing. It is merely the dam or stoppage, made of flour and water, with which the tinker stops the gap he is mending until the tin or the pewter he is using has cooled.

Ten Little Chickens.

Ten downy chickens from ten yellow eggs,
Toddling around on sturdy little legs

Ten little chicks basking in the sun,
Down turned to feathers—thrifty every one.

Ten big chickens—preacher come to dine,
Chicken pie for dinner—then there were nine

Nine sleepy chickens—preacher staid late,
Fricasse for supper—then there were eight.

Eight bad chickens to garden scratching given,
Soup for sick neighbor—then there were seven.

Seven grown chickens, full of bad tricks,
Children had a picnic—then there were six.

Six fine chickens at the set of sun,
When the sun rises there's not a single one.

Gone away to market—twelve jingling dimes
In the mistress' pocket—so ends the rhymes
—Lucy S V King

Admiral Porter's Dog Bruce.

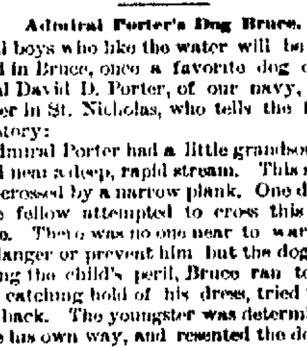
All boys who like the water will be interested in Bruce, once a favorite dog of Admiral David D. Porter, of our navy, says a writer in St. Nicholas, who tells the following story:

Admiral Porter had a little grandson, who lived near a deep, rapid stream. This stream was crossed by a narrow plank. One day the little fellow attempted to cross this plank alone. There was no one near to warn him of danger or prevent him but the dog. Realizing the child's peril, Bruce ran to him, and, catching hold of his dress, tried to pull him back. The youngster was determined to have his own way, and resented the dog's interference by beating poor Bruce in the face with a big stick he carried until the dog was forced by pain to relinquish his hold. The faithful animal then jumped into the water and swam slowly across the stream below the plank, evidently with the intention of saving the child should he happen to fall in.



ADMIRAL PORTER'S FAVORITE DOG.

When they were both safely across, and Bruce had shaken the water from his shaggy coat, he induced the little fellow to get on his back for a ride. The moment the dog felt the child's arms around his neck, and the little feet digging into his sides, he trotted back across the plank and homeward, never stopping until his young charge was safely beyond any temptation of repeating his dangerous performance.

Bruce was a famous watch dog, and guarded the admiral's premises in Washington more effectively than any night watchman, for it would have taken more courage to confront him than to encounter any average watchman. Poor Bruce met his death in an ignominious way, despite his bravery. He possessed a common weakness—he would over eat. One hot day he indulged in an unusually greedy manner and had in consequence an attack that ended his life.

Yachts That Have Raced for the America's Cup.

The queen's cup, which was given by the royal yacht squadron in May, 1851, for a race around the Isle of Wight, was won by the schooner yacht America, now owned by Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, but whose principal owner at that time was Commodore J. C. Stevens, of the New York Yacht club. The America was built by George Steers, at Greenpoint, and registered in custom house tonnage at 170 tons. She carried no foretopmast and displayed no boom on her foresail. She took the lead in the great race of Friday, Aug. 22, 1851, and held it against fourteen crack British yachts, completing the run of eighty-one miles, despite the loss of her jib boom, eight minutes in advance of the cutter Aurora. The cup then came to this country, and has remained here ever since. Contests for it took place in 1870, 1871, 1876, 1881, 1885 and 1887, the American yachts coming off victorious in every instance.

In 1870 the Cambria came over the seas and was beaten and beaten badly, the old America, Dauntless, Magic, Idler, Silvie, Madgie Phantom, Alice and Halcyon all making better time. In 1871 the Livonia came out and tried her mettle with the Columbia, who beat her handsomely the first time by 27m. 10s., and the second by nearly 8 minutes. In the third trial she was defeated, owing to the loss of her flying jibstay and the breaking of her steering gear. A few days after the keel schooner Sappho defeated the Livonia twice, once by 30m. 21s., and again by 25m. 27s. The next race was in 1876, when the Canadian yacht Countess of Dufferin came down to try for the cup. The Madeleine defeated her in fine shape, first by 10m. 59s., and again by 27m. 14s. The Canadians made a second trial in 1881, with the centerboard sloop Atalanta. She was beaten both by the Mischief and Gracie, the Mischief's margin of safety being respectively 28m. 30s., and 38m. 54s.

In 1885 the Genesta made the attempt and was beaten by the Puritan, of Boston; first race, Sept. 14, Puritan, 6h. 6m. 5s.; Genesta, 6h. 22m. 24s.; second race, Puritan, 5h. 3m. 14s.; Genesta, 5h. 4m. 52s. The Galatea entered for the cup in 1886 against the Mayflower, first race, Sept. 7, (Galatea time allowance of 49 seconds), Mayflower, 5h. 26m. 41s.; Galatea, 5h. 38m. 43s.; second race, Sept. 11, Mayflower, 6h. 49m.; Galatea, 7h. 18m 9s. English (or Scotch) blood being now up, the Thistle made in 1887 the desperate effort to regain the cup. The Volunteer was built to beat her and did; first race, Sept. 27, Volunteer, 4h. 53m. 18s.; Thistle, 5h. 12m. 41¾s., being allowed 5 seconds and being beaten by 19 minutes and 23¾ seconds, or a little over 2¼ miles, in a course of 38 nautical miles. In the second race, Sept. 30, the Volunteer (5h. 42m. 56¼s.) beat the Thistle (5h. 54m. 44s.) by 11 minutes and 47¾ seconds. The Red, White and Blue sailed from New York to London in the early summer of 1866 and was subsequently on exhibition at Paris. She was ship rigged, 28 feet long, and carried three men.

Queer Epitaphs.

The Boston Transcript has been publishing some oddities in the way of epitaphs lately. Here are a few specimens:

When I was like you,
In years not a few,
On the ocean I toil'd,
On the line I have broil'd,
In Greenland I've shiver'd.
Now from hardships deliver'd,
Capsized by old Death,
I surrendered my breath,
And now I lie snug
As a bug in a rug.

Copied from New England Palladium, Boston, Friday, Oct 4, 1810; was found in Waddington church yard, England, in memory of William Richard Phelps, late boatswain of H. M. S. Invincible; died April 21, 1779.

The following epitaph is copied from a village burying ground near Au Sable Chasm, N. Y.:

Sally Thomas is here, and that's enough.
The candle is out, also the snuff.
Her soul's with God, you need not fear,
And what remains is interred here.

The following quaint rhyme may be found on an ancient tombstone in Wrentham:

A tub of water she fell in,
Not knowing it would take her breath,
But oh, alas! the fatal sting
Did prove to her a sudden death.

This was taken from a churchyard in Yorkshire, England, on a woman who sold earthenware:

Beneath this stone lies Catherine Gray,
Changed from busy life to lifeless clay;
By earth and clay she got her pelf,
And now she is turned to clay herself.
Ye weeping friends, let me advise—
Abate your grief and dry your eyes—
For what avails these tears?
Who knows but in a score of years,
In some tall pitcher or broad pan,
She in her shop may be again?

Origin of Fruits.

Cherries were known in Asia as far back as the Seventeenth century. Garlic came to us first from Sicily and the shores of the Mediterranean. Asparagus was originally a wild sea coast plant, and is a native of Great Britain. Nectarine received its name from nectar, the principal drink of the gods. The tomato is a native of South America, and it takes its name from a Portuguese word. Greengage is called after the Gage family, who first took it into England from a monastery in Paris. Parsley is said to have come from Egypt, and mythology tells us it was used to adorn the head of Hercules. Apples were originally brought from the east by the Romans. The crab apple is indigenous to Great Britain. It is a curious fact that while the names of our animals are of Saxon origin, Norman names are given to the flesh they yield. The onion was almost an object of worship with the Egyptians 2,000 years before the Christian era. It first came from India. The cantaloupe is a native of America, and so called from the name of a place near Rome, where it was first cultivated in Europe. Before the middle of the Seventeenth century tea was not used in England, and was entirely unknown to the Greeks. The word biscuit, French for "twice baked," because, originally, that was the mode of entirely depriving it of moisture.

Lord Bute's Residence.

The largest and costliest private mansion in the world is that belonging to Lord Bute, called "Montstuart," and situated at Rothesay, England. It covers nearly [illegible] acres, is built in gothic style; the walls, [illegible] and balconies are built of stone. The immense tower in the center of the building is 120 feet high, with a balcony around the top. The halls are constructed entirely of marble and alabaster; all the rooms are finished in mahogany, rosewood and walnut; the fireplaces are all carved marbles of antique designs. The exact cost of this fairy palace is not known, but it has never been estimated at less than $8,000,000.

A Big Ferryboat.

The largest ferryboat ever constructed was named the Solano, and is now in use daily conveying train across the Straits of Carquinez, between Benecia and Port Costa. The Solano is 400 feet long, 116 feet wide and 20 foot depth of hold. She has [illegible] steel boilers, four rudders and a tonnage of [illegible] tons. On her decks are four tracks, with capacity for forty-eight [illegible] cars and two locomotives [illegible] passenger coaches of [illegible]

—Mrs. Kate Dutt, of Galion, is the guest of friends and relatives in this city for a few days.

—The question with the Campbell block crowd just now is not "where is Tascott?" but "where is Jim Jacoby?"

—The Night Owls gave another delightful dance Thursday night, tripping early to the music of the Springfield harpist.

—Mrs. Chas. Greiner and two little sons, of Columbus, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Holerman, two miles north of town.

—Pompadour Muslins are one of the latest Wash Dress Fabrics. We have some very choice patterns. SEFFNER BROS.

—The Electric Light company received a new engine from the Ball Engine company Thursday evening, which they have added to their works.

—The Royal Arcanum of this city Thursday night, donated $20 for the Johnstown flood sufferers. The order lost fifteen members thus far reported.

—Francisco Beckley has been the jolliest man in town since last Tuesday, and for no other reason than the advent into his household of a little male boarder.

—Special attention given to orders for fine lace hats and bonnets. We also have a cheap counter of trimmed work.

FENTON & GARWOOD.

—H. E. Stager, of Jonestown, Pa., is in the city spending a few days with friends. Mr. Stager is one of most prominent and enterprising flouring mill men of the East.

—Ladies Summer Wraps, beautiful Silk Shawls, fine Cashmere Shawls, Embroidered Fichues, Beaded Capes, etc., all sold very low, at Seffner Bros., Masonic Block.

—Another circus is billed, and still another is coming after that. Marion seems to be in luck, whether good or bad, in the matter of circus entertainment this year.

—We have it that work will begin on the new street railway within two weeks, since Mr Robertson has been granted the franchise. The line is to be completed and cars running by December 1st, next.

—Henry Kildiff returned Thursday evening after a short trip to Johnstown, Pa., where he was called to search for some missing relatives who are supposed to have been lost in the disaster. He was not successful in learning anything of them.

—In response to an inquiry George Hochstetter reports the stone walk business booming. He has just finished a fine inside walk for L. G. Allen, a nice side walk for W. Z. Davis, and is now cutting and laying one in front of J. F. Lust's business place.

—Please notice the line of trowserings in our west window, specially those at $4.00, $4.25, $4.50 and $5.00. SEFFNER BROS.

—A local club called the Mohawks are anxious to play a picked nine from the grocers and expressmen, and it is proposed that this game take the place of the one announced for Monday between the grocers and expressmen. The proceeds of a small admission will go to the relief of the Conemaugh sufferers.

—A certain vicinity in town is on the tip toe of expectancy over a sensation getting out to stir things up. The facts are that a C and A. brakeman came home unexpectedly and found a "gentleman" occupying his place in the family circle. The interloper was fired out a window, much against his wishes, and he wasn't even given time to arrange his neck tie.

—The Marion gun club met at the grounds in the north end Thursday afternoon for their regular weekly shoot, which resulted in a score as follows: Stone 23, Frame 21, Frash 17, Payne 19, Harraman 21, Sanford 14, Fies 17 and Spaulding 17. The club has purchased new and much improved traps and other shooting apparatus and now have their grounds in excellent condition for shooting.

—George Beichler, employed at the Steam Shovel works, was painfully burned about the face while at work in the moulding room Thursday morning. He received his burns from the explosion which sometimes follows the filling in of too much coke in the furnace about which he was working and, at the time of the explosion he was standing in such a manner that his face came in contact with the flames, with the above results.

—Owing to the disregard of the many who should be interested in a fourth of July celebration the committee appointed to solicit subscriptions for the purpose have quit the work in disgust, and have abandoned all hope of a celebration. The fact should be remembered by our business men that several thousand dollars which would be brought to this city by a celebration will be distributed among the neighboring towns, who are more enterprising in this way.

A Dinner Party.

One of the most elegant and enjoyable affairs of the season was the dinner party given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. King, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. John Stokes, of Long Island. Nearly sixty guests were present. The dinner was served in the spacious dining rooms of the Hotel Marion, and was all that the most fastidious epicure could desire. The floral decorations were especially beautiful and gracefully arranged. Over each table was festooned a band of twined smilax and marechal niel roses, and beside each plate lay a creamy rose bud of the same variety. After dinner the guests returned to the elegant home of their host on east Center, and the evening was spent in the most enjoyable manner. Among the guests from abroad were Rev. and Mrs. Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Allen, of Paulding, O., and Mr. John Williams, of Bellefontaine, O. At a late hour the company dispersed bidding a reluctant good night to the genial and charming host and hostess. NATALIE.

A MEETING TONIGHT

A Citizens' Meeting To Be Held at City Hall—One Thousand Dollars Raised.

The various soliciting committees and citizens generally will meet at City Hall tonight to close up the work of securing aid for the Conemaugh Valley sufferers. The committees have met with gratifying success, and have secured subscriptions to the amount of about one thousand dollars. A few more dollars may be secured, though the committees have exhausted about all resources.

Let there be a general turn out tonight. All are interested in the commendable work, and will be interested to hear the detailed report of the various committees.

Republican County Convention.

The Republicans of Marion county will meet in delegate convention at 1 p. m., on Saturday, June 15, 1889, at City Hall, Marion, to select five delegates and five alternates to the State convention to be held in Columbus June 25 and 26. The primary meetings will be held in the various wards and townships on Thursday evening June 13, at 8 p. m. The apportionment of delegates is as follows: Big Island 8, Bowling Green 5, Claridon N. P. 7, Claridon S. P. 5, Grand 4, Grand Prairie 4, Green Camp 8, Marion tp 12, First ward 11, second ward 5, Third ward 10, Fourth ward 8, Montgomery E. P. 7, Montgomery W. P. 9, Pleasant 6, Prospect 10, Richland 4, Salt Rock 5, Scott 4, Tully 5, Waldo 5.

Prospect.

The rains of this week and last caused the river to rise rapidly here until it became bank full, but it is slowly falling at present.

The great performer and lecturer Lovillo has been spending his time, to pecuniary gain, here for the past week. The opera house has been filled to overflowing night after night and many have purchased medicine of the doctor, which they claim has done them good. Whether the result will be beneficial or not remains to be seen.

Decoration day was observed here by the G. A. R., the S. of V., the W. R. C. and a large number of citizens meeting in the opera house in the afternoon, where speeches were made and forty-two little girls, dressed in white and carrying flags, declaimed a number of fine selections and sang some beautiful songs. After the exercises in the house were finished the G. A. R., led by the Star band marched to the cemetery, where the graves of the soldiers who died in defense of our country were tastefully decorated. The memorial services were held at the M. E. church on Sunday May 26th, and the sermon was delivered by Rev. R. J. George.

The second lecture by the Lutheran church was delivered by Rev. Pfeiffer, on "Heaven" on Tuesday evening. The audience was highly pleased.

The young ladies of the High school under the management of Prof. Miller gave an entertainment at the opera house on Wednesday evening. The play rendered was "Anitas Trial," a very pleasing three act comedy.

The ball club of this place crosses bats with the Green Camp club this afternoon.

The S. of V. will give an ice cream and strawberry festival in Gast's grove tonight.

On Thursday evening, June 13th, the Star band will give its celebrated annual festival in Gast's grove.

Walter Parry, of Michigan, has been visiting friends here for a few days.

A Mr. Turney, of Michigan, has been buying horses here for his own use. He will ship them to his home in a day or two.

Joe Sells, of Paulding county, is visiting relatives here at present.

Joe Cameron has bought a pair of ponies.

John Wilson has a horse and a new buggy. What's the matter with our landlords?

June 6. M.

A Matter of History.

The Bucyrus Telegraph, on Wednesday, contains the following: "Thirty years ago today, on the morning of June 5th, 1859, the people of this county looked upon one of the most discouraging sights that was ever presented to a people accustomed to ordinary prosperity. It was nothing less than a general destruction of the growing crops, by a withering frost—in fact a downright freeze—which was followed in the morning by bright sunshine, only making the destruction the more complete. Corn was re-planted, and owing to a favorable fall made a very fair crop, but wheat, rye and some other crops were practically a total failure. The season was at that time advanced beyond what it is now. Early planted corn was "knee high" and wheat was very generally in bloom. Corn bread was the staple for the next year, and it was a fortunate family that could even have biscuits for their Sunday dinner."
